		Note: In a tweet on February 19, 2020, Sen. Patrick Leahy stated that the Justice Department told him that the pardon attorney had reviewed six of President Trump's first 22 acts of clemency. It is unclear how this statement fits with our findings, which concern pardon attorney recommendations of clemency rather than mere review. It is possible, for example, that one of the people Trump pardoned had applied through the pardon attorney, who reviewed the application without recommending a pardon before Trump issued one.
